The Reeds is a new park adjacent to Kingsmead Park Allhallows, an established park owned by Turners Parks Group. A former golf course now being developed into a residential park the development has an abundance of green areas and open space. Situated in Allhallows-on-Sea with views to the River Thames The Reeds offers scenic views and walks.

There is village shop and takeaway within walking distance and a doctors surgery while the nearest town of Rochester approximately 10 miles away offers a greater range of shops and amenities, train station and larger supermarkets. A regular bus service stops at Allhallows-on-Sea.
